914Inc.'s Corner Office Features Russell Yankwitt and His Journey to Creating Westchester's Go-To Law Firm

Russell Yankwitt, the founder and managing partner of Yankwitt LLP, was profiled in the feature article, Corner Office, in the 4th Quarter issue of 914 Inc. magazine. The article, titled "Top of the (Legal) Mountain," chronicles Russell's journey from deciding to become a lawyer while climbing the Himalayan Mountains to launching and building Yankwitt LLP, a firm known for having the most credentialed and aggressive lawyers and trial attorneys outside of New York City. The article also highlights Russell's personal life, from his upbringing in Westchester to creating his own family that started with a blind date with his wife Debbie at a Garth Brooks concert.

The article is an interesting, fun read, and is available in the print edition of the magazine and online.
