Law360 Publishes Article on COVID-19 Waivers by Yankwitt and Hamerman

Law360, a leading legal digital publication, has published an article by Russell Yankwitt and Dina Hamerman titled, “How NY Businesses Should Approach COVID-19 Waivers.” The article examines when and to what extent businesses may be able to rely on COVID-19 waivers in the state of New York. The article focuses on:

- What kind of businesses may be able to rely on waivers to limit their liability for negligence claims?
- Against whom waivers may be enforceable?
- What type of misconduct may be enforceable and unenforceable with a waiver?
